

ROOTED
— NOW —

Simple Launch for Big Results

A practical guide to starting a Bible study in your church

One prepared leader. Clear teaching. Meaningful next steps.

Unfiltered | Ages 16–20

In Progress | Ages 21–30

Prepare • Invite • Equip • Connect • Launch

Ready to begin?

Explore Rooted Now Bible Studies

rooted-in-faith.org

PLANTED CALLING LLC

Publication & Use

Simple Launch for Big Results

© 2026 Planted Calling LLC.

Published by Planted Calling Publications.

All rights reserved.

Permission for Local Use

A church using this guide may copy its checklists and adapt its invitation and announcement templates for its own Rooted Now launch. This permission does not authorize resale, public redistribution, or copying separately licensed curriculum beyond its license.

About This Guide

First edition • October 2026

This flexible implementation guide helps churches prepare at their own pace. “Big results” expresses the purpose of the guide; it does not guarantee attendance or spiritual outcomes.

What Your Study Includes

Each purchased church study includes a Leader Guide and a Participant Guide. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. They are not required to participate. No paid membership is required.

Prepare With Confidence

Use this guide alongside your selected curriculum. Confirm access to your study materials and follow your church’s safeguarding practices before launch.

Table of Contents
Reserved until all pages are finalized

A Welcome from Taylor

A simple beginning. A meaningful purpose.

Dear church leader,

You may have a heart for the young people in your church and still wonder how to begin. Who will lead? Where will you meet? How much preparation will it take?

I created Rooted Now with churches like yours in mind. As a former youth pastor and spiritual director for international youth missions, I have created and led Bible studies and experienced the joy of helping young people connect God's Word with everyday life. I also understand how much preparation ministry can ask of the people who care.

Imagine having a clear study to follow, practical leader support, and participant guides ready to use—so more of your preparation can focus on welcoming people and building relationships.

You do not need a dedicated young-adult pastor or a large ministry team to begin. Start with one prepared leader, the selected study materials, and a suitable meeting space. Arrange any additional adult coverage your church requires, especially when minors participate.

This guide breaks preparation into manageable steps you can follow at your church's pace. Your role is to create space for Scripture, honest reflection, and practical next steps. You do not have to know every answer.

Thank you for caring enough to begin.

With hope,
Taylor
Founder, Rooted Now
Planted Calling LLC

Your Launch at a Glance

Five simple phases. A pace your church can sustain.

Begin with one approved leader, your selected study guides, and a suitable meeting space. Arrange any additional adult coverage your church requires.

1

Prepare

Choose Unfiltered (ages 16–20) or In Progress (ages 21–30). Select the study, confirm material access, name the leader, and choose your meeting details. Review the Leader Guide.

2

Invite

Identify people to invite. Send personal invitations and share through approved church announcements and social media. Give everyone one clear way to respond.

3

Equip

Read the first session, gather its required supplies, and prepare the matching Participant Guide. Establish a church-approved way to send updates.

4

Connect

Follow up personally, confirm attendance and practical needs, and prepare a welcoming room. Make it easy for someone new to find you.

5

Launch

Complete your final checks, lead the first Bible study, and invite brief feedback. Confirm the next meeting and choose one practical improvement.

Included with your church study: Leader and Participant Guides.

Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. No paid membership is required.

Move forward when each phase is ready. There is no fixed launch deadline.

Why Rooted Now?

Less to build. More room to connect.

Your church may already have young people asking meaningful questions about faith. Rooted Now provides a structured way to gather them around Scripture, with resources that help a volunteer prepare and lead.

Guidance for the Leader

Leader Guides include preparation checklists, numbered steps, read-aloud teaching prompts, transitions, and discussion support. Your volunteer has a clear path to follow and help when a conversation needs direction.

A Guide for Every Participant

Participant Guides include study activities, charts, scenarios, and writing spaces. Prepare the matching guide instead of creating separate activity handouts. Follow the study license when printing.

Faith for Everyday Life

Scripture, discussion, reflection, Live It Out, and prayer help participants consider a practical response. Writing and sharing are optional, so people can engage without pressure to disclose personal experiences.

A Starting Point You Can Manage

Choose the age track that fits your people: Unfiltered for ages 16–20 or In Progress for ages 21–30. Seeding: MOTION offers a four-session beginning. Use existing space and supplies where possible, then plan the next study around your church's capacity.

Begin with one prepared leader and a clear next step.

Leader and Participant Guides are included with the selected church study. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. No paid membership is required.

What Is Rooted Now?

Two age tracks. A clear path to grow.

Rooted Now serves ages 16–30 through two age-specific Bible study tracks. Churches can begin with a small group, a prepared volunteer leader, and the guides for their selected study.

16–20

Unfiltered | Ages 16–20

For older teens and young adults. Follow your church's safeguarding requirements when ages 16–17 participate.

21–30

In Progress | Ages 21–30

For young adults navigating work, school, relationships, and everyday decisions. Choose a meeting rhythm your group can sustain.

The Bible Study Progression

1

Seeding

MOTION curriculum • 4 sessions

2

Grounded

GROW curriculum • 4 sessions

3

Flourish

CALLED curriculum • 12 sessions

4

Fruitful

The complete three-study progression • 20 sessions

Begin With What You Can Sustain

Each study is self-contained and includes a Leader Guide and a Participant Guide. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately; they are not required to participate. No paid membership is required.

One volunteer can coordinate and lead when church policy allows. Arrange any additional approved adult coverage your church requires before meeting.

Choosing Your Bible Study

Choose your people. Choose your starting point.

1. Match the Age Track

- ☐ Unfiltered | Ages 16–20
- ☐ In Progress | Ages 21–30

If both age ranges are interested, begin with one group or arrange separate age-appropriate groups. Each group needs a feasible leadership plan. Follow your church's safeguarding requirements for minors.

2. Choose Your Starting Point

- ☐ Seeding: MOTION | 4 sessions
- ☐ Grounded: GROW | 4 sessions
- ☐ Flourish: CALLED | 12 sessions
- ☐ Fruitful | All three studies, 20 sessions total

For a new group, Seeding: MOTION offers a manageable four-session beginning. Each study is self-contained. Fruitful includes Seeding, Grounded, and Flourish; it is not an additional fourth study.

3. Confirm You Are Ready

- ☐ Review the selected study's Leader Guide and confirm access to the matching Participant Guide.
- ☐ Confirm the study license and permitted participant copies.
- ☐ Confirm church approval, the leader, meeting space, and required adult coverage.

Our Launch Choices

Age track and study: _____

Leader: _____

First meeting date and location: _____

Leader and Participant Guides are included with your selected church study. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. No paid membership is required.

Phase 1: Prepare

A clear starting point for your church.

Work through these steps in manageable planning blocks. Allow the time you need for reading, church approval, material access, and safeguarding arrangements.

Step 1 | Choose Your Starting Point

- ☐ Choose the age track and study that fit your group. Ask the appropriate church decision-maker to approve the plan.
- ☐ Confirm the study license and access to its Leader Guide and Participant Guide. Record any unresolved access issue.

Done when: Your track and study are selected, and material access is confirmed or being resolved.

Step 2 | Name the Leader and Meeting

- ☐ Identify one willing, church-approved leader. Confirm any required screening or additional approved adult coverage.
- ☐ Choose a location, first meeting date, meeting length, and ongoing rhythm. Check room access and accessibility.

Done when: One leader owns the launch, and the meeting details are recorded.

Step 3 | Review the Leader Guide

- ☐ Read the guide's introduction, session structure, first-session requirements, and participant care guidance.
- ☐ List the required supplies and any open questions. Resolve essential questions before announcing a start date.

Done when: You know what the first session requires and who will resolve each open question.

Keep it manageable.

Begin with the people and resources your church can sustain.
Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately.

FLEXIBLE LAUNCH CHECKLIST

Phase 2: Invite

A personal invitation can open the door.

Use the invitation and announcement templates later in this guide. Replace every bracketed field and confirm meeting details before sharing. Keep invitations clear, personal, and pressure-free.

Step 4 | Identify People to Invite

- ☐ List people in the selected age range already connected to your church, plus friends who may welcome an invitation.
- ☐ Choose church-approved ways to contact them. Follow your church's communication practices for minors.

Done when: You have a practical invitation list. No attendance target is required.

Step 5 | Send Personal Invitations

- ☐ Adapt the personal invitation with the track, study, date, time, location, and reply contact.
- ☐ Invite people individually through a conversation or an approved message. Privately note replies and questions so you can follow up.

Done when: Each person on your initial list has received a clear invitation.

Step 6 | Share Through Church Channels

- ☐ Ask permission to share the church announcement and social media caption through approved channels.
- ☐ Use one simple response route. State any confirmed participant fee accurately. Only describe the study as free if your church is offering it at no cost to participants.

Done when: Public details match your personal invitation, and replies go to one leader.

Keep the invitation welcoming.

Welcome questions, offer clear details, and respect a person's decision if the timing does not work.

Phase 3: Equip

Give your leader a clear path to follow.

Set aside a focused block to review the first session. Use the actual Leader Guide to identify what to read, prepare, and bring.

Step 7 | Prepare the First Session

- ☐ Read the entire first session and its Scripture passages. Mark the opening, discussion transitions, and closing.
- ☐ Work through the instructions once. Flag anything unclear and seek clarification before you lead.

Done when: You can follow the session using its Leader Guide and know which questions still need an answer.

Step 8 | Gather Only What Is Needed

- ☐ Check the session's supply list. Borrow or reuse what you can, and prepare authorized Participant Guide copies.
- ☐ If help is available, assign one small task, such as room access or greeting. Otherwise, keep setup manageable for one leader, within church policy.

Done when: Required materials are available, and any volunteer tasks have a clear owner.

Step 9 | Set Up Communication

- ☐ Choose a church-approved text, email, or messaging method. Ask permission before adding anyone to a group conversation.
- ☐ Send the meeting details and leader contact. Follow church policy for minors and keep private contact information protected.

Done when: Interested participants know how to receive updates and contact the leader.

Keep preparation practical.

Use the supplied teaching and participant activities. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately; no paid membership is required.

FLEXIBLE LAUNCH CHECKLIST

Phase 4: Connect

Help people feel welcome before they arrive.

A welcoming launch begins with clear information and thoughtful follow-up. Keep contact personal, brief, and pressure-free.

Step 10 | Follow Up Personally

- ☐ Contact interested people who have not confirmed. Offer a simple way to reply or ask a question, and respect a decision to decline.
- ☐ Ask whether transport, accessibility, timing, or uncertainty about the group affects their ability to come. Offer practical help your church can reasonably provide.

Done when: Interested people have received a personal follow-up and know whom to contact.

Step 11 | Confirm the Practical Details

- ☐ Ask who expects to attend, while allowing for changing plans. Use replies to estimate materials and seating.
- ☐ Confirm the room, entrance, restroom directions, and required adult coverage. Follow up on any agreed accessibility arrangements.

Done when: You have a working headcount, a confirmed space, and clear arrival details.

Step 12 | Prepare the Welcome

- ☐ Arrange simple seating so people can hear and see one another. Prepare an entrance sign or clear directions if needed.
- ☐ Prepare a brief welcome and the group expectations. Let participants know they may pass on questions and do not need to share personal experiences.

Done when: People can find the room, understand what to expect, and participate without pressure.

A little personal care can make arrival easier.

Offer to meet a newcomer at the entrance. Use church-approved communication and safeguarding practices.

Phase 5: Launch

Begin prepared. Welcome people. Keep going.

Set the first meeting when your leader, study materials, and church arrangements are ready. Complete the final checks before gathering, then follow up afterward.

Step 13 | Complete the Final Check

- ☐ Confirm the Leader Guide, Participant Guides, required supplies, room access, and safeguarding arrangements.
- ☐ Send a final reminder with the entrance, location, and meeting details. Confirm the proposed next meeting date.

Done when: Essential preparations are complete. Resolve any missing essential before you meet.

Step 14 | Lead the First Bible Study

- ☐ Arrive early, welcome participants, explain group expectations, and lead the first session using its actual Leader Guide.
- ☐ Invite brief feedback: Was the time and location workable? Was anything unclear? What would help next time? Announce the next meeting.

Done when: The first study has met, and participants know how to take the next step.

Step 15 | Review and Follow Through

- ☐ Send a short follow-up message with the next meeting details. Review feedback and record only necessary planning notes privately.
- ☐ Choose one practical improvement. Follow up on promised answers or care needs through church-approved channels.

Done when: Your next meeting is confirmed, and you have one clear adjustment to make.

Faithful preparation. A sustainable next step.

Attendance helps you plan; it is not a measure of anyone's faith or the ministry's worth.

Prepare to Lead

A clear guide. A manageable role.

Your task is to guide the provided study, welcome people, and keep the gathering clear and respectful. You do not need to prepare a separate sermon.

Read, Mark, and Rehearse

- ☐ Read the study introduction and the entire first session. Read its Scripture passages in context before the meeting.
- ☐ Identify what the guide asks participants to read, discuss, or do. Mark transitions and any preparation instructions.
- ☐ Practice explaining the first instructions aloud. Plan the meeting using the guide's actual session flow.
- ☐ Keep the Leader Guide accessible as you lead. Write down unclear questions and seek help from an appropriate church leader or the curriculum provider.

Keep the Role Manageable

A leader can also send reminders, open the room, and greet participants. Reuse a short reminder template, arrange chairs before people arrive, and skip optional refreshments if they add work.

If another approved volunteer is available, assign one defined task: room access, greeting, or preparing authorized copies. Confirm the task and arrival details. Follow your church's adult coverage requirements.

When You Do Not Know an Answer

“That is a good question. I want to check it carefully rather than guess. I will follow up.”

Record the question and ask an appropriate church leader. Distinguish what Scripture says from your interpretation, then follow through on your promised answer.

You can lead with preparation, humility, and a willingness to listen.

Lead a Welcoming Group

Create room to listen, participate, and ask honest questions.

Begin with shared expectations

Suggested wording to read aloud:

“We are here to engage Scripture and listen respectfully. You may pass on any question. Give others room to speak, and do not repeat someone else’s personal story outside this group. We cannot promise secrecy if someone may be unsafe; we will involve appropriate support.”

Make discussion welcoming

- ☐ Allow thinking time. Invite participation without putting someone quiet on the spot.
- ☐ Thank people for sharing. Gently return long answers to the guide so others have room to speak.
- ☐ Use the study’s questions. Do not pressure anyone to disclose trauma, private struggles, or personal information.

Prepare for care and safety

Know your church’s safeguarding contact, reporting process, and approved communication practices before the first meeting.

For participants ages 16–17, confirm your church’s requirements for consent, volunteer screening, adult coverage, and room arrangements. One lead volunteer does not replace required adult supervision.

If someone shares a safety concern, follow church procedures and any applicable reporting duties. Do not investigate the disclosure in the group or promise counseling beyond your training.

Church safeguarding or pastoral contact:

Lead with warmth, clear boundaries, and humility.

Budget-Friendly Supplies

Start with what your church already has.

Have the basics ready

- ☐ Your selected study's Leader Guide and Participant Guides, ready in the format you will use.
- ☐ Bibles or access to the Scripture passages used in the study.
- ☐ Pens and a few sheets of paper for anyone who needs them.
- ☐ A welcoming meeting space with enough seating, suitable lighting, and accessible entry.

Know what you are purchasing

Rooted Now studies are sold separately. Each program offers a Leader Guide and Participant Guides. Use and reproduce materials only as permitted by your purchase.

Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. They are not required to participate. No paid membership is required.

Add only what helps

- ☐ Water or simple refreshments, if your budget allows. Check dietary needs before offering food.
- ☐ A basic sign or clear arrival instructions so participants can find the room.
- ☐ Any supplies specifically listed in the selected session. Check the guide before buying.

Keep spending manageable

Borrow supplies and use existing church space before purchasing anything new.

If printing is permitted, print only the pages needed. Confirm that digital access works for participants before relying on it.

A small group does not need decorations, matching merchandise, a projector, or a large volunteer team to begin.

Our supply budget: $_____

What we already have: _____

What we still need: _____

Keep the focus on Scripture, conversation, and a welcoming place to gather.

Tell Your Church

A clear invitation makes it easier to take the first step.

Choose one age track for each invitation. Replace every bracketed field before sharing.

Unfiltered: ages 16–20 • In Progress: ages 21–30

Church announcement

READ ALOUD OR USE IN YOUR BULLETIN

Looking for a place to explore Scripture, ask honest questions, and connect with others? [Church name] is starting a Rooted Now Bible study for [track name], ages [age range].

We begin [date] at [time] in [location]. We will use [study name] and meet [meeting schedule].

For details or to let us know you are interested, contact [leader name] at [contact information]. We would love to welcome you.

Social media post

COPY INTO YOUR CHURCH'S CAPTION

Your questions are welcome here.

Join [Church name] for Rooted Now—a Bible study for [track name], ages [age range]. Explore Scripture, join the conversation, and connect with others as we work through [study name].

Starts: [date and time]

Meets: [meeting schedule]

Location: [location]

Interested? [RSVP link or leader contact]

You are welcome to come with questions and take part at your own pace.

Before you share

- ☐ Check the date, time, location, age range, and contact details.
- ☐ Explain any participant cost or material arrangements clearly in your event details.
- ☐ Use your church's approved channels and image permissions. Avoid posting participants' personal details publicly.

Personal invitations can support your announcement. See the next page for ready-to-use messages.

Invite Someone Personally

A thoughtful invitation can open the door to a conversation.

Replace every bracketed field before sending. Choose Unfiltered for ages 16–20 or In Progress for ages 21–30.

Personal invitation

TEXT OR DIRECT MESSAGE

Hi [first name]! I wanted to invite you to a Rooted Now Bible study at [church name]. Our group is for [track name], ages [age range], and we will work through [study name] together.

We start [date] at [time] in [location] and meet [meeting schedule]. There will be space to explore Scripture, ask questions, and listen.

Would you like the details? No pressure if this is not a good fit right now.
[Leader name]

Follow up with interest

WHEN SOMEONE HAS ASKED FOR DETAILS

Hi [first name]! Thanks for your interest in Rooted Now. Our first gathering is [date and time] at [location].

Here is what to expect: [brief arrival and meeting details].

Materials and any participant cost: [explain arrangements].

Is there anything you would like to know before deciding? If you plan to come, reply by [RSVP date] so we can prepare.

[Leader name and approved contact]

One gentle reminder

IF YOU HAVE NOT HEARD BACK

Hi [first name]! Just following up once about Rooted Now at [church name]. We begin [date and time]. If you would like to join us or ask a question, you can reply here. If now is not the right time, that is okay.

[Leader name]

Keep invitations respectful

- ☐ Use church-approved communication channels, including required guardian involvement for minors.
- ☐ Invite without pressure. Respect a decline or a request for no further messages.
- ☐ Keep contact details private and get permission before adding someone to a group chat.

Keep People Connected

Clear details and thoughtful follow-up help people stay informed.

Replace every bracketed field before sending. Use the communication channel each participant has agreed to use.

Before the first gathering

SEND TO CONFIRMED PARTICIPANTS

Hi [first name]! We look forward to welcoming you to Rooted Now on [date] at [time]. Meet us at [location and entrance instructions]. Our gathering ends at [end time]. Please bring [items needed]. Your Participant Guide will be [explain how it will be provided or accessed].

Questions about arrival or access needs? Contact [leader name and approved contact]. See you soon!

After the first gathering

THANK PARTICIPANTS AND CONFIRM WHAT IS NEXT

Hi [first name]! Thank you for joining our first Rooted Now gathering. Our next meeting is [date and time] at [location]. Before then, [include only the preparation or practice assigned in the study, or state that none is needed]. What helped you feel welcome? Was anything unclear?

You can reply privately to [approved contact]. Thank you for helping us make the group welcoming.
[Leader name]

If someone could not attend

RECONNECT WITHOUT GUILT

Hi [first name]! I wanted to check in after our first Rooted Now gathering. You are welcome to join us at the next meeting on [date and time] at [location].

If you would like help finding the materials or knowing where we will begin, contact [leader name and approved contact]. No explanation for missing the meeting is needed.

Communicate with care

- ☐ Follow church communication policies, including guardian involvement where required for minors.
- ☐ Do not share private feedback, prayer requests, or attendance details without permission.
- ☐ Confirm permission before adding anyone to a group chat, and respect requests to stop messages.

First-Session Preparation

Use your selected Leader Guide as the source for what to teach.

Review the session

- ☐ Read the entire first session and its Scripture passages in context.
- ☐ Mark the guide's teaching notes, discussion questions, and participant instructions.
- ☐ Note any activities, preparation, or supplies specified in the session.
- ☐ Identify questions you need to check with a trusted church leader before teaching.

Prepare the materials

- ☐ Have your Leader Guide ready and confirm how participants will receive or access their Participant Guides.
- ☐ Check printing permissions before making copies. Prepare only what you need.
- ☐ Test any digital access you plan to use, and prepare an accessible alternative where needed.

Plan the gathering

- ☐ Choose a start and end time. Allow room for introductions, the session content, questions, and prayer.
- ☐ Prepare a brief welcome and shared discussion expectations. Let participants know they may pass on a question.
- ☐ Confirm the next meeting date, location, and approved way to receive updates.

Welcome people well

- ☐ Send arrival details, entrance instructions, what to bring, and any participant cost or material arrangements.
- ☐ Check seating, lighting, restrooms, and access needs. Make the meeting room easy to find.
- ☐ Confirm required safeguarding arrangements, adult coverage, and guardian involvement for participants ages 16–17.

Keep the first meeting manageable

Follow the selected study rather than creating an extra lesson. Pray for wisdom, prepare thoughtfully, and make room for honest questions. You do not need to have every answer.

First meeting: _____

Start / end time: _____

One thing still to prepare: _____

Launch-Day Checklist

Keep your Leader Guide close and your welcome simple.

Before participants arrive

- ☐ Set out your Leader Guide, Participant Guides, Bibles, and any supplies listed in the session.
- ☐ Check the room, seating, lighting, restrooms, and entrance instructions.
- ☐ Confirm required adult coverage and safeguarding arrangements before welcoming minors.
- ☐ Pray for wisdom and a welcoming, respectful gathering.

As people arrive

- ☐ Greet each person and introduce yourself. Help newcomers find their materials and a place to sit.
- ☐ Explain the start and end times, where to find restrooms, and how the gathering will work.
- ☐ Share discussion expectations: listen respectfully, make room for others, and allow anyone to pass.

During the study

- ☐ Follow the selected session's Scripture, teaching guidance, questions, and activities.
- ☐ Allow thinking time and invite participation without pressure. Keep the discussion connected to Scripture.
- ☐ If you do not know an answer, say so and arrange to check it. Follow church procedures for any care or safety concern.

Before people leave

- ☐ Close with prayer and confirm the next meeting date, time, and location.
- ☐ Explain only the preparation or practice assigned in the selected study.
- ☐ Ask: "What helped you feel welcome?" and "Was anything unclear?" Offer a private way to respond.
- ☐ Confirm permission to send updates through your church's approved communication channel.

After the gathering

Make brief notes about what worked and what needs adjusting. Keep personal information secure. Follow up on practical questions and refer care concerns through your church's procedures.

Next meeting: _____

Time and location: _____

One follow-up action: _____

POST-LAUNCH EVALUATION

Review the First Gathering

Notice what helped. Choose one practical improvement.

Use this review after your first meeting. Feedback is optional; invite honest responses without asking people to disclose personal struggles.

Meeting date: _____ Number attending: _____

Leader: _____

Ask participants

Invite a short written response or a private reply.

1. What helped you feel welcome?

2. Was anything unclear or difficult to access?

3. What would make the next gathering easier to participate in?

Reflect as a leader

- ☐ We used the selected Leader Guide and kept the discussion connected to Scripture.
- ☐ Participants had room to speak, listen, and pass on questions.
- ☐ The pace allowed us to finish at the announced time, or we identified what to adjust.
- ☐ Participants knew how to access their materials and when we would meet again.
- ☐ We followed church safeguarding and communication procedures.

Leave any unchecked item as a prompt for improvement, not a judgment of the group.

Choose one next step

One thing to keep: _____

One thing to adjust: _____

Who will follow up, and by when? _____

Attendance is one practical detail, not a measure of someone's faith. Do not treat one meeting as proof of spiritual outcomes. Keep feedback private and route care or safety concerns through church procedures.

CONTINUE WITH PURPOSE

Next Steps

Begin with one study. Plan what comes next.

Rooted Now offers two age tracks: Unfiltered for ages 16–20 and In Progress for ages 21–30. Choose the track that fits your participants.

The study progression

1

Seeding

MOTION • 4 sessions

A four-session study you can launch on its own.

2

Grounded

GROW • 4 sessions

Continue with GROW, or choose it as a self-contained study.

3

Flourish

CALLED • 12 sessions

Plan for a longer, twelve-session study with your group.

4

Fruitful

The complete three-study progression

MOTION + GROW + CALLED = 20 sessions. Fruitful brings the three studies together; it is not an additional fourth study.

Choose your next step

Ask participants what helped and what would support continued participation.

Review your leader's availability, church calendar, budget, and safeguarding arrangements.

Confirm your next study, materials, meeting dates, and communication plan before inviting the group to continue.

Clear purchasing. Simple participation.

Studies are sold separately. Each program offers a Leader Guide and Participant Guides. You can begin with one self-contained study.

Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately. They are not required to participate. No paid membership is required.

Explore Rooted Now Bible studies
rooted-in-faith.org

Choose your age track and review the study options.

Take the next faithful step with the people in front of you.

ROOTED NOW

SIMPLE LAUNCH FOR BIG RESULTS

One leader. A place to gather. A faithful next step.

Your church can begin with a manageable plan, practical supplies, and a welcoming invitation.

Rooted Now offers Bible studies for two age tracks:

- Unfiltered • Ages 16–20
- In Progress • Ages 21–30

Choose one study. Prepare your leader. Invite your group.

Use this guide to plan your launch at a pace that fits your church. Follow your selected Leader Guide and your church's safeguarding policies as you welcome participants.

Studies are sold separately. Each program offers a Leader Guide and Participant Guides. Companion devotionals are optional and sold separately; they are not required to participate. No paid membership is required.

Ready to explore Rooted Now?
rooted-in-faith.org

Review the age tracks and study options for your church.